

Did you know?

Employers should conduct harassment and discrimination training?

Employers of all sizes should conduct periodic harassment and discrimination training for their supervisors and all their employees. Training will help your supervisors recognize potential problems while they can still be managed. Training your workforce can be an important element in defending any future claim.

Surge Resources, Inc. can assist you with this training. Surge can train your supervisors and managers and then your general workforce.

Call Surge to arrange for your training now!

Let's keep working together to remain in compliance!
Call us with all your human resources questions.
Surge Resources, Inc. is your Workforce Management Company!

7/20/11